

TYPHOID GERMS FOUND IN BODY OF MCCLINTOCK

Case of Death Not Disclosed,
However—Two or Three Days
More Required to Complete
Analysis

PATIENT 'VERY ILL'

Doctor Says Typhoid Developed
Several Days After He Was Called—He Ordered Virtual Isolation

Chicago, Dec. 26. — An autopsy of the body of William Nelson Mc-Clintock, "millionaire orphan," who died three weeks ago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shepherd, his foster-parents, while Miss Isabella Pope, his fiancée, waited to marry him, has disclosed the presence of typhoid germs but has not determined the cause of death, Coroner Oscar Wolf announced today.

The death certificate showed young McClintock, who left his fortune under the terms of a will to Mr. Shepherd except for an $8,000 annuity for Miss Pope, had died of typhoid fever.
It will take two or three more days to complete the chemical analysis and determine exactly what caused death, the coroner was informed by his chemist.

An indication of the thoroughness of the investigation came tonight when George E. Gorman, assistant state's attorney, made public a statement made by F. T. Bredigan, of Battleground, Mich., formerly in charge of clinical routine of the Illinois research laboratories here.

In 1913 Bredigan said Dr. Olson, now dead and a brother of Judge Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court and a friend of the McClintock family and who asked that the investigation be launched, brought two men to the laboratory.
They were introduced to him, he said, as "William McClintock and Mr. Shepherd." The man known as Shepherd, Bredigan said, came to the laboratories several times with Dr. Olson, and later made three or four trips alone.

During the visits to the laboratory Bredigan said the man known to him as Shepherd watched his work and expressed particular interest in bacteria culture, also discussing typhoid germs with Bredigan, explaining that he was a chemist and druggist and was interested in clinical routine.

On three occasions, he said, a woman introduced to him as "Miss Shepherd" accompanied the man but she did not enter the laboratory.
William D. Shepherd is now on his way to Chicago from Albuquerque, N. M., where he and Mr. Shepherd went to rest after young McClintock's death. He is expected to arrive here tomorrow morning and Robert E.
Crowe, state's attorney, has indicated that Mr. Shepherd, who was a druggist and chemist, will be questioned at once about young McClintock's
death.

Doctor Sought to Isolate Patient.
Joseph Savage, assistant state's attorney, said that his office had not determined as yet what significance might be attached to Mr. Bredigan's statement, which came to the office from Judge Olson. Commenting on the investigation, he said:

"Our investigation is including all possibilities of the case, not excluding that of typhoid inoculation and the possibility of improper treatment of the patient, such as the feeding of solid foods. Our examination of Dr.
Rupert Stolp, attending physician, today failed to elicit any confirmation of the possibility that McClintock's death had been hastened or his illness intentionally aggravated."

Dr. Stolp told us that he was called on November 23, and that from then until his death, December 4, the patient was constantly under his observation, and under the care of nurses assigned to the care by himself. Two of the nurses we shall examine tomorrow.

Dr. Stolp said that the reported request that visitors not come to the residence was made at his instance in the interest of the patient's health.
He said, too, the servants had complained that there was too much company, and that they had to get too many meals for guests.

Dr. Stolp also said that when he was first called, young McClintock seemed to be suffering from an effection of the nose and throat, and while he seemed "very ill" showed no symptoms of typhoid fever until a few days later.

The Stolp also said that he had never heard McClintock or Miss Pope express the wish during his illness to commemorate their romance by an immediate marriage. The first he learned of this, he said, was through the newspapers after the young man's death.

Judge Olson, who asked that the body be interred, is commenting on the autopsy as thus far revealed.

"I never have expected that poison or anything of that sort would be found. It would not surprise me at all if the autopsy clearly showed that McClintock died of typhoid fever, as the physician said. By the way, I was not the end of it. The whole story has not been told. Much remains to be cleared up, and the investigation should not end until it is clear that McClintock's death was natural."

MAN, 99, ENDS LIFE AND ANOTHER, 100, BURNED

Philadelphia, Dec. 26. — A centenarian was burned to death and a necropsy was committed suicide
here today.

Mrs. Elizabeth Salvatore, 100 years old, was found burned to death on the second floor of her home when police and firemen responded to an alarm of fire. She lived alone and the origin of the blaze is undetermined.

Believing himself to have become a burden because of ill health,
Henry De Snyder, 95 years old,
Civil War veteran, shot himself in the temple at the home of his daughter. He died almost instantaneously. Relatives said he had become dependent yesterday when he was unable to enjoy his Christmas dinner.

tiago, Cuba, on July 1, 1898.

Colonel Miller also received one of the citations for gallantry in action.

MINERS WILL VOTE ON ENDING WALKOUT

Believed Majority of Strikers Want to Return to Work—Part of Men Now Working

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 26. — Mine workers of the Underwood colliery, one of the 10 Pennsylvania Coal company's operations which have been idle two weeks because of a strike, will meet tomorrow to vote on ending the walkout. The meeting was called by a committee of the miners who are of the belief that a majority of the strikers desire to return to work.

William P. Jennings, district superintendent of the Pennsylvania company, announced tonight that the colliery would begin operations Monday morning providing that the strikers voted to resume.

Last Tuesday a group of the Underwood workers resumed operations in the "Eddy Tunnel." Early today the powder house at the colliery, not far distant from the tunnel, was blown up. Company officials and others attributed the dynamiting to the strikers. County, state, and borough authorities, as well as private detectives, are working in an effort to apprehend the guilty persons.

President Rinaldo Cappelloni, of district No. 1, United Mine Workers, said the district union executive board would investigate the explosion.

N. Y. OFFICIALS NOT TOLD OF BRITISH POTATO EMBARGO

New York, Dec. 26. — Officials in the New York office of the United States department of agriculture said today that they had received no information concerning the British embargo on American potatoes reported from London.

Restrictions on the importation of American potatoes into Great Britain have been in effect since 1922, said W.
R. Stephens, assistant superintendent.
Under the regulations the embargo applied only to shipments not accompanied by a certificate from a state or government official stating that the potatoes were free from disease and insects like the Colorado beetle.

TRAPPED, FOUR SEVERELY BURNED

Child Dies of Burns in Hospital—
Man May Not Live—Two Others Burned

Towanda, Pa., Dec. 26.—Eleanor Wiseall died late tonight in the Pacific Hospital at Sayre. The condition of Henry Mulford, who also was taken to the Sayre hospital, was reported as grave.

Towanda, Pa., Dec. 26.—Entrapped
on the third floor of a burning business block at Waverly, N. Y., near here, tonight, four persons were severely burned before they were rescued by firemen. Two of them, Henry Mulford, 35, and Eleanor Wiseall, 8, were so badly hurt that physicians fear they cannot recover. Damage to the Ellis Building, to which the fire was confined, was estimated at $25-$30. It is believed the blaze originated from an exploding kerosene stove.

The fire started in Mulford's living apartment on the second floor.
Police said that Mulford had lighted the stove to prepare his dinner and had stepped out to a nearby store.
While he was absent, Mrs. Joseph C.
Wiseall, who occupied the third floor,
detected smoke coming from the floor below. She went to the front window to give the alarm and when she returned the flames had broken through the only stairway leading to the street.
Clutching her young daughter, who was ill in bed, in her arms, she took a position at the front window awaiting the arrival of the firemen. The flames finally forced her onto the window sill and she was about to jump when her daughter when firemen managed to get a ladder up to the window and carry them down. Mrs. Wiseall, although severely burned, is not in a serious condition.

Meanwhile Mulford had rushed back into the building to aid in the rescue of others. He was completely enveloped in flames when firemen reached him. One fireman was burned about the face and hands.

BORST'S COUNSEL SEEKS DISMISSAL

Justice Declares He Still Has Three Years to Live Before He Becomes 70

Albany, Dec. 26. — Counsel for Supreme Court Justice Henry V.
Borst today requested that the application of the Sylvia Lake corporation for permission to test the justice's title office be dismissed.

The application had declared Justice Borst had passed the age limit.
Attorney General Sherman took the request under consideration, and counsel for the justice then requested that in case the attorney general did not dismiss the application, Justice Borst be permitted to present his answer at length.

According to officials in the attorney general's office, the action is considered as unparalleled in the history of the state. It is known to attorneys as "quo warranto proceedings" and is commonly employed in election disputes. The attorney general, it was said, is the only person who legally can bring such an action.

It was explained the Sylvia Lake corporation, of which J. Herman Mc-Lear of New York City and Government is president, recently was in litigation before Justice Borst. The action originally was tried before an other supreme court justice, went to the appellate division and was returned for a new trial. Justice Borst ruled against the corporation and the appellate division affirmed the decision.
It was said the litigation involved property rights which the corporation claimed in mine property located in St. Lawrence county.

Justice Borst has denied he has reached 70, the age limit for supreme court justices, asserting he is 67 and intends to spend the remaining three years on the bench.

Ritter, founder of the W. M. Ritter Lumber company of Columbus, O., was publicly commended today by President Coolidge for his action in giving to employees of his company a quarter of the capital stock of his concern as a Christmas present.

Mr. Coolidge went him this letter:
"I have been very much interested in reading of the fine thing you have done for those in your employ at Christmas time. Such acts of generosity can not help but lead to better co-operation and understanding between the employers and employees, and you are to be commended for the fine example you have shown."

she fell from the train onto a track near Indianapolis, Ind. Although injured, she was not seriously burst. She was brought to a local hospital.

34 KNOWN DEAD IN OKLAHOMA SCHOOL BLAZE

Learned

4 OTHERS MAY DIE

Eight Victims Buried—Trench to Hold 20 Bodies Not Yet Completed—Business Places
Close in Hobart

(By the Associated Press)

Hobart, Okla., Dec. 26. — The number of deaths due to the Babbs Switch school fire on Christmas eve, rose to 34 today with the death of John Goforth, and the list was expected to mount higher as several of the injured were in a critical condition.
Mr. J. P. Noah, Mrs. Joe McNutt, Leeds F. Eden, and Mrs. Walter G.
Biggers are not expected to recover.

Night cloak the Hobart cemetery
as the last of the eight bodies buried today was laid to rest. In one grave sleep the three Clements sisters, Mary Lola, Gladys, Mrs. Junata Clements
Stephenson, and the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Stephenson.

Volunteer workers were unable to complete today the huge trench in which 20 bodies will be buried.
A wreath of flowers, a last mark of devotion to his sweetheart, went into the grave with Gladys Clements, whose fiancé, Claud Holding, severely burned, is in a hospital. They were to have been married yesterday.

The others buried today were the Hovelle children, Mrs. Glenn Terry
Hill, teacher of the school, and Vesta Jackson. Hobart and Kiowa county joined a memorial service earlier in the afternoon, ministers of all city churches taking part.

Child Crawls to Safety.

A piercing shriek from a sister of Vesta Jackson sent a shudder through the 2,000 persons or more in the city auditorium as the minister finished the services. In that shriek the suppressed grief of a community was voiced.

Years poured down the cheeks of many as they wept for the victims.
They went to the youths' section, which terminated in one of the state's first tragedies, as a choir sang the comforting strains of "Asleep in Jesus."

Brief words of consolation to the relatives of the dead followed quotations from the scriptures by the ministers.

Hobart business houses closed during the afternoon at the request of Mayor F. E. Gillespie, and hundreds of rural residents trekked over slippery country roads to howl in tribute to the dead.

Crawling on hands and knees, dodging in between shuffling feet and straining bodies, a tiny girl, Lelia Biggers, four and a half years old, escaped without a scratch from the Babbs Switch Christmas eve holocaust in which 34 persons lost their lives.

The child was listed among the missing in early lists of the victims.
Her two brothers, Walter and William, died in the fire and her mother, Mrs. W. H. Biggers, was probably fatally burned.

MINE SAFETY CONFERENCE WILL BE CALLED SHORTLY

Coolidge expects in the near future

the coal producing states to consider promotion of mine safety.

The program for the conference, to which about 10 states having extensive coal mines will be invited to send representatives, has been completed by the department of interior and its bureau of mines. It is the intention of the President to hold the conference at an early date so that governors desiring to seek legislation for mine safety can bring their conference can do so at the forthcoming sessions of the various state legislatures.

BRIDELL FREED, BUT RE-ARRESTED

Immediately Rearranged in Prison
—Released on Bail and Hurries
to Home

Comstock, Dec. 26. — Robert F.
Bridell, former New York city labor leader, and "Czar of the building trades," left Great Meadow prison today on parole after completing nearly four years of a five-year sentence for extortion. But he left under arrest, for he was re-arrested by United States Marshal George S. Black of Schenectady, and immediately re-arranged within the prison before United States Commissioner Herman Mottner of Glens Falls, charged with perjury and filing a false income return.

It had been anticipated that Brid-ell would be taken nine miles to Whitehall for arraignment before
United States Commissioner Leon M.
Layden who had first announced that he first would go to the prison, and then declared that Bridell must be brought to Whitehall. The labor leader was held in $5,000 bail for his hearing in district court in New York on January 13 to answer to the new charges. It was said that Commissioner Layden had gone to Vermont.

After the arraignment, Bridell hurried to a waiting automobile, provided by his son, and left at once for his home in New York city. He declined to comment on his release, but posed for photographers in the prison office.

Bridell's bondsmen were Frank
M. Stachek, an automobile dealer, and J. Burke Collins, real estate agent of Glens Falls.

According to the complaint, it is charged that in 1929 Bridell filed an income tax return on $21,000 instead of $108,000, which is claimed to have been his income that year.

in Each Others Arms—Three Die in Fire

Buffalo, Dec. 26.—Three men were burned to death in a fire, which swept the Washington hotel in North Ton-

that he escaped by jumping from a window and was reported at a local hospital with a broken leg, but later his body was found.

John Bennis suffered an injured leg when he jumped from a window.
The fire loss was $40,000.

STICKS TO COMPANION AS COAL SLIDES ABOUT THEM

New York, Dec. 26.—Michael Long of Astoria, a laborer, entered a coal pocket tonight, and, with another coal avalanche impending, saved the life of a fellow workman buried to the neck in sliding coal.

More than 200 tons of coal had frozen and jammed, Benjamin Bradderak, another laborer, went into the pockets to loosen it. His efforts started a slide that quickly buried him to the neck. Long, hearing Bradderak shout for help, jumped into the pocket and was pushing coal away from Bradderak when a second coal slide began.
Long braced himself against the side of the pocket and held back the avalanche while with one free hand, he kept the falling coal from burying Bradderak.

COURSE OF DEATH CHARGE UNKNOWN

No Other Wounds Found on Body of Middletown, Conn., Photographer's Wife

Middletown, Conn., Dec. 26. — Following the formal arraignment today of Casper Schmidt, local photographer held in $5,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife, shot and killed when a shotgun was discharged in the Schmidt home Wednesday, Acting Medical Examiner John E. Loveland filed his report of the autopsy with Coroner L. A. Smith late today.

The report failed to disclose the course taken by the charge from the gun, which examination by the police led them to believe was downward.
To clear up this question, the coroner and the medical examiner will hold a conference tomorrow. Schmidt said that the gun had been discharged when he had thrown it on a table after he had slipped on a banana peel.
With the exception of the gunshot wound, the autopsy disclosed no other marks on the body.

Coroner Smith said this afternoon that his inquest would be delayed

BOXING.

"Among the heavier divisions of the 'box-fighters' certain battles stood out prominently during the year just closing. The Willis-Firpo fight in September at Boyle's Thirty Acres drew the biggest crowd of any yet was quite lacking in thrills. The giant negro, who had failed to knock out Bartley Madden in a slow fight, some time previously, was complete master of the Wild Bull, but either could not or would not put him away. Firpo, who had 'retired' earlier in the year after defeating Lodge and Reck in South America, went down to defeat again in November before Weinert. The star of Luis is on the wane. Floyd Johnson acted as the repeller of foreign invaders, knocking out Rojas and Escobar, but finally losing to Tony Fucate in Los Angeles. Senior Tony later provided Florida with plenty of talk about by knocking out the much-knocked-out Fred Fulton in 15 seconds. The bout had all the earmarks of 'one of those things' and the principals on both sides were all arrested. This gave sort of a black eye to boxing in California, where twelve round bouts to a decision had just been legalized.

Georges Carpentier graced the American continent once more with his dashing presence and managed to get himself decisively beaten up in two bouts, one with Gibbons at Michigan City and one with Gene Tunney in New York. The latter was really the most sensational fight of the year. Georges claiming a foul in the fourth round and losing on a technical knockout in the fifteenth. 'Young' Stribling had a busy year, easily beating world's light heavyweight champion, Mike McTigue, in a no-decision bout, and fighting a draw with Paul Berlenbach. This chap Berlenbach was one of the sensations of the year, running his string of consecutive knockouts to 24, only to be knocked out in turn by Jack Delaney. Paul will be heard from again. World's middleweight champion, Mickey Walker did the fight game a lot of good, winning clean-cut aggressive victories over such men as Tender, Barrett and Jack Malone. One of the biggest shows of the year was the Milk fund fight in June. Greb beating Moore, Stribling beating Loughran and Tunney putting away the Italian, Spalla.

A Merry Time at Churches.

The Christmas exercises at the Presbyterian church were held Christmas eve. The church was well attended and a splendid program followed the supper, after which a well laden tree was unloaded of its gifts. Altogether the evening was a very happy and joyous occasion.

At the Methodist Episcopal church the supper, served for members of the church, congregation, Sunday school and friends, was taken of by many, and at 8 o'clock a fine program, under the supervision of Mrs. A. B. Graves and Mrs. O. A. Tilley, was given, consisting of songs, recitations, tableaux, and readings. After the program a happy part of the evening's festivities was held when C. W. Peaslee, in accordance with a promise made by him a year ago to the effect that if 12 or more pupils of the Sunday school attended the Sabbath school for 40 or more Sundays, they would each receive $5.00, made good and 15 persons received $5.00 each and three of these received an extra dollar for being present 50 Sundays.

Following this the presents from the tree was distributed amid much enjoyment. Another important feature of the evening was the presentation of a small Christmas tree on which were tied bills amounting to $62, a gift to Rev. Graves and family, by his parishioners and friends. C. W. Peaslee, who presented the gift, also read verses composed by Mrs. Harriett M. Matteson for the occasion. The evening was one of great pleasure to all, each one putting forth every effort to make the time a happy and memorable one.

A FEW EDITORIAL NOTES.

In Great Britain the Labor party, which was defeated at the recent Parliamentary election, finds solace in knowing that it nevertheless cast a million more votes than it did a year and a half before. The fact is that the election was largely a battle between the Labor party and the Conservatives, with the Liberals, meaning thereby the old party of Gladstone and the newer one of Lloyd George, a loser to both. As result the Conservatives won hands down, having more than 400 members of the house of commons, with 160 for Labor and only 40 for the Liberals.

Significant as they appear to be of a swing back to Conservatism, it may be said that there is no certainty of the permanence of this swing or even of considerable endurance. Politics of the world over are in a much more fluid state than they were twenty years ago, as witness the state and national swing in our own country in the past decade; and the public is looking more for results than for the party tag upon candidates elected. The England, therefore, which not so long ago was Conservative, then Liberal, then Labor and now Conservative again, may as quickly overturn the present government as any of the others; and present and impending legislatures and congresses may well take heed of this fact in the United States.

Never has a date approached for the fulfillment of an engagement but Germany has demonstrated her unwillingness to live up to the letter of her agreements, to say nothing of the spirit of them. When the Versailles treaty was made it was agreed that the Allies should be evacuated from the Rhine and the rest of the year provided at that time German good faith should be demonstrated. The time is up and Germany has defaulted on the reparations payments, which although renewed under the Dawes plan are much in arrears. Moreover, there has been secret manufacture of arms, and the maintenance of a military body disguised as national or internal police, which can be called out at any time.

Now that the New Year approaches, there is natural anxiety as to how legislation and governor at Albany will get along next session, when the latter body will in both branches be Republican. Whatever the spirit of political leaders may be, it is the belief of the rank and file of citizens that there should be a compromise, that the capital if things are to go along in a manner conducive to the public welfare. The Republicans on the one hand should not oppose measures simply to embarrass the governor; and the latter might well meet the legislature in a spirit of conciliation. Among the measures which will probably be submitted is that for a budget, and that for a short ballot, making many of the present state officials appointive, as the members of the president's cabinet are, rather than elective. Political parties should not enter into consideration of these matters, the former of which clearly seems to be in the interests of economy.

Out in Los Angeles, one of the public libraries has consented to be a center in cross-country puzzle contests. Though the idea comes from the idealistic enterprising Californian city, it may have features to commend it, albeit pretty soon a world court and not merely a local one would be needed.

There are those who believe that the rearrest of Superintendent Anderson of the Anti-Slavery League on indictments found at the same time as that on which he was tried and convicted, is a case of persecution by public policy, and that it favors rather of persecution than of prosecution. There may be reasons for such rearrest, but it is a critical question, and public sentiment, which largely has been inclined to let Anderson drop, might under certain conditions, develop a sympathetic interest in his behalf.

CHRISTMAS—1934.

The love that overflows the realm of light,
And comes to Bethlehem that winter's night,
Is with us yet! He kneels at every heart;
Would enter in; His peace and joy impart;
With us and strife and hate, let us away
And join the angelic song of "peace" today
And sing again of "peace, good will to men."
God's gift receive, His love enshrine
"O! then,
In vain we strive to estimate Christ's worth;
In vain we try to estimate His worth.

I pardon crave; my song doth run
And all too low for such a day as this.
God "glows above." He "presses close"
Vibrant "His soul o'er ours we feel"
somewhere
This Christmas day we must His praises sing.
Make room for Christ our Lord and crown Him King.

JENKS BOOM FAILS

Leader of Assembly Again Will be Assemblyman Adler of Monroe who Held Position Last Year—Fight on in Senate.

Assemblyman Edmund H. Jenks of Broome County, whose home is in Whitney Point, will not be the next leader of the State Assembly, as had been predicted by some of his friends. According to information contained in news despatches from Albany, the place will go to Assemblyman Adler of Monroe county.

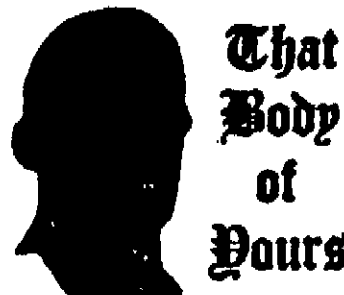

The first activity of the 1935 legislature started yesterday with the insurance of a call of Republican members of the Assembly by Assemblyman T. Chauncey Moore of Rochester caucus chairman. The caucus is called for the evening of Tuesday, January 8, at the capitol.

The caucus will be held in the Ways and Means committee room, and will select the officers for next year. It is expected that Joseph A. McGinnis of Chautauque, will be named for the speakership of the House and that Simon L. Adler of Rochester, will be continued as floor leader. Fred Hammond of Syracuse will be chosen clerk and Harry Haines of Yonkers, will be sergeant at arms.

Senate Republicans are expected to caucus on the same night, although the call has not yet been issued. The battle over the leadership is still between Senator George Fearon of Syracuse and Senator John Knight of Arcade.

Friends of Fearon in Albany, yesterday claimed he had sufficient votes to insure his election, while Knight's friends made the same claim. In inner circles it was said that some of the more powerful in group leaders in the state had decided that Fearon should have the place and this report was being generally credited.

The Democratic members of both houses will also caucus on the evening of January 6, and name minority leaders. They will be Senator James J. Walker in the upper house, and Assemblyman Maurice Block in the Assembly.

FOOD FOR THE TEETH

THEMSELVES.

It is a fortunate thing for the rising generation that dentists and physicians are not taking so much for granted, but are now seeking to learn the cause of various ailments.

You will remember that as young teeth were taught that the first teeth, the milk teeth, were not important, that they would decay and drop out early, so that the permanent set could take their places. Accordingly teeth were pulled out, or were allowed to decay, with no thought of treatment, except to put in some oil of cloves, or other remedy to allay the pain.

A step forward was made when our dental friends pointed out that if teeth were allowed to decay or drop out, then the entire shape of the mouth, and the youngster's personal appearance might be marred for life, owing to the irregular manner in which the permanent teeth came through into sockets that were not large enough for them.

Accordingly, the past few years, the teeth of school children are watched closely, fillings put in to preserve the teeth, and thus the shape of the mouth. Also because infection can get into the system from the first tooth, just as readily as from the permanent set. However, still another advance has been made by an investigator, a woman this time, who shows that the foods that the youngsters eat have a great deal to do with the hardness of the teeth and their enamel covering.

By experimenting on puppies, she found that diet including cod liver oil, milk, and the yolk of egg, seemed to form the bone and dentine better than other forms of food.

Accordingly, experiments were made on groups of children of the same age, weight and general health, one group getting the above diet, the second group getting other food and those same substances in smaller amounts, and the third group getting the ordinary fare of the institution.

The differences in the general health were scarcely noticeable, whereas the condition of the teeth after an exposure of eight months was markedly different. Those children who had the special diet mentioned above showing much better teeth.

So our old fashioned cod liver oil, milk and eggs, again come in for commendation.

The way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Make him smile by using the perfect flavoring compound—Borden's—In your kitchen.

THE GUIDE POST—

BY Henry and Tertius VanDyke

A BIT OF SENTIMENT.

And David longed, and said, Oh that one would give me water to drink of the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate.—II Sam. 23:15.

In the Cave of Adullam, among his fierce and ragged warriors, the heart of David went back to his boyhood, and he longed for a draught of water from that well where he had often quenched his thirst when he was a shepherd lad.

I do not know that it was especially good water. But he wanted it for old time's sake.

Bethlehem was then in the hands of the Philistines. But three of David's mighty men risked their lives to break in to the enemy's stronghold, and bring back the water for which their chief's heart thirsted.

When he held the cup in his hand he realized what his friends had done for him. His heart was subdued. He could not drink the precious water, but poured it on the ground with prayer as an offering to God.

Sentimentality?
No, it was not that.
But it was sentiment, real and true and deep—the power that makes us love the memories of home and defend them; the power that leads loyal men to a brave leader; the power that lifts human life above the level of a brutal machine and makes it a fine adventure.

A man without sentiment is like a tree without sap—not a tree, but a post.

DEYO CO. HAS OWN DEPOT

Storage Capacity of Oneonta Plant of Oil and Gas Company Recently Enlarged.

Because of the ever-increasing consumption of petroleum products in their territory, the Deyo Oil Co., Inc., announced that after Jan. 1, as before, they will continue its own supply stations in Bath, Binghamton, Clyde, Elmira, Hancock, Interlaken, Ithaca, New Milford, Pa., Oneonta, Penn Yan, Sidney, Susquehanna, Pa., Union and Waverly.

They have also put in additional storage to hold several car loads of lubricating oil which will allow them to purchase in tank cars and handle this product in the most economical manner.

As the number of motor cars and trucks has increased in the Oneonta territory, the demand for high test gasoline and motor oil will grow steadily. Consequently the Deyo Oil Co., Inc., a local corporation, which will handle Gallex gasoline and motor oils after Jan. 1, will have a closer relationship to the consumers of their product and will not be under the direction or dictation of a foreign corporation.

This means that Oneonta has had and will have an organization and capacity sufficient to take care of their growing business, which they have developed through hard work and close attention to business.

The Galena-Signal Oil Co. of Texas, with whom the Deyo Oil Co., Inc., will become associated after Jan. 1, is said to be one of the world's most honorable producers, refiners and marketers, and operate what is known as the complete cycle. That is from the wells to the refinery, and from the refinery their products are shipped in their own boats to Bayway, where it is stored. From Bayway in their tank cars to supply the Deyo gasoline trade. The Deyo Oil Co., Inc., will become interlinked with the Galena-Signal Oil Co. of Texas after Jan. 1, and will become producers, refiners and distributors. They will market their own products under their widely known name and their trademark, "Gallex," not only through their distributing plants which they own, but throughout the state, furnishing other distributors in tank cars Gallex products. In other words they become the general marketers of Gallex products in New York state.

R. H. Deyo, president of the Deyo Oil Co., Inc., commenting on the local situation, says:

"It may be of interest to our many friends and customers to know that the injunction served on us Dec. 6 by a large and powerful so-called independent oil company was modified by Justice Rhodes under the same date, allowing us to sell a gasoline of lower boiling point and also allowing us to store this Gallex product, which we are doing and we will have it on hand to take care of our trade Jan. 1."

COURTESY OF THE ROAD

City Judge Leo B. Van Woert in Study
Talk Urges Golden Rule for Drivers—
L. F. Hamilton Key Member.

At the regular luncheon of Oneonta Rotary club, held yesterday in view of the holiday of Thursday, City Judge Leo B. Van Woert was the speaker. His talk being one of the series being arranged by the Business Ethics committee of the club. "Courtesy of the Road," Dr. Norman W. Getman was to have been another speaker but at the last minute he found it impossible to be present.

Leland F. Hamilton, of the Otsego Laundry company, successors to Buckley Brothers, was elected into membership in the club under the classification of steam laundry.

Judge Van Woert in his talk applied the business code of ethics to the highway of the state, and urged that as a simple matter for the elimination of many accidents would be the application of the golden rule to the use of the roads of the country.

Following is a brief summary of his talk:
"Everybody seems to believe that the automobile problem is one beyond control and one which is steadily growing worse. I am of the contrary opinion. I believe a few statements would bear out my contention and an outlook of optimism.

"The ratio of accidents to the number of cars in operation has been almost cut in half since 1917, but of course the larger increase in the number of machines has brought the total steadily higher.

"In 1917 there were 100 deaths to every 100,000 cars operated, a large number I will grant, but latest figures show a rate of 108 to the 100,000.

"But to bring the matter to our own city. I know that conditions here are encouragingly better, mainly for two reasons: the exercise of greater care on the part of drivers of cars; and the increasing appreciation of responsibility by all users of our streets.

"Courtesy of the road is the application of fair dealing and service to the use of the highway, which is not only right in principle but good business as well.

"Any community extending the courtesy of the use of its streets to the stranger is creating a community good which will gradually attract people to that community.

"The motoring public is far more sympathetic with law enforcement than in the past, for the necessity is more readily observed and more easily understood.

"The people as a whole are coming to realize that traffic regulations are for their protection and enforced with that end, alone, in view."

COURT PLACES HAMM CHILDREN.

Victims of Parents' Marital Troubles
Are Given Into Care of Aunt.

Two small children, whose cases came before County Judge A. J. McNaught, due to the domestic troubles of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hamm of Grand Gorge, were given into the custody of an aunt at South Kortright by the court.

The action by Judge McNaught is the culmination of trouble which began early last summer when Mrs. Hamm was charged with neglect of her children.

Employment on a farm near Mineral, Sp., taking care of the children with her. Emil Erickson, also residing near Grand Gorge, left about the same time and also secured employment at the farm where Mrs. Hamm was working.

As a result, Mr. Hamm swore out a warrant charging his wife and Erickson with kidnapping the Hamm child. They were arrested by state troopers and after an investigation, the charge was dropped.

State troopers presented the case of the children to the court. Mrs. Hamm was represented by Attorney R. S. Ives of Roxbury. The troopers alleged that conditions in the Hamm home were not suitable for the children.

Mrs. Hamm claimed that her husband was not a satisfactory provider. This was offset by a neighbor who declared Mr. Hamm was a good provider. Both parents were willing that the children should be taken care of and they were placed in charge of a Mrs. McIntosh of South Kortright, pending further order of the court.

Mrs. Hamm stated that she is employed. Mr. Hamm has been out of work for some time.

Trooper Loses Pocketbook.
Corporal J. V. Kraus of Troop C, while enroute to Glens Falls recently, lost his pocketbook containing $26 in money, two pay checks which were endorsed and some valuable papers.

The wallet was found the same morning outside the Hotel Potter in Schenectady by Lester Miller of that place. He took his find immediately to James R. Macdougall in the Schenectady National bank, who in turn turned it to Captain D. E. Fox. On the return of Corporal Kraus he sent $10 to be given young Miller as a reward.

SPLendid FIRE-FIGHTING

THREE BLAZE AT 103 SPRUCE STREET YESTERDAY MORNING CHECKED BY EXCELLENT WORK.

Five in House Owned by Frank Howland of Watson and Occupied by Chas. R. Riter and William L. Walker, Checked by Oneonta Fire Department With Damage Comparative Slight — Insurance Coverage.

Only splendid work on the part of Oneonta's firefighters saved the double house at 103 Spruce street, owned by Frank Howland of Watson and occupied by Chas. R. Riter and William L. Walker, from being demolished in a fierce fire which gained headway there yesterday morning.

The portion of the house occupied by the Riter family was somewhat damaged by smoke, on the second floor, but the fire and water damage was confined to the first floor and cellar, while the only damage done to the part occupied by the family of William Walker was that of smoke. The cause of the fire has not been definitely determined, but started near the Riter furnace.

It is understood that all of the loss is covered by insurance, but Mr. Riter had only $500 on his furnishings and those of the first floor were almost a complete loss.

The blaze was discovered at about 7:15 o'clock, at that time the flames enveloped the cellar and working through the lower floor and the partitions of the house. The fire department was immediately called and in about twenty minutes the blaze was under control.

The fire was not only a fierce one, but particularly smoky as well, the smoke rolling from the roof and from practically every window of both sides of the house.

The fire department spent nearly two and a half hours before the blaze was finally extinguished, and highest praise is due all the members of the department, including many call men who responded and worked steadily.

Three Children on Second Floor.
There were three Riter children, Lester, 14; Madeo, 12, and Howard, considerably younger, on the second floor of the house when the blaze was discovered, but fortunately they were able to make their way to the ground without assistance, no one suffering any physically from the fire.

Mr. Riter attended his furnace at about 6:30 o'clock, before going to work, he being an electrician with the Delaware & Hudson company, and stated last evening that he left no hot fire, using only a little wood and some coal.

Mrs. Riter went to the Walker home about 7 o'clock to use the telephone and everything appeared to be all right in her home. She talked for some time, and later stopped to exchange a few words with Mrs. Walker. It was while talking with her that the smoke was noticed and the phone alarm sent in.

Mrs. Walker had just finished that call when the phone and light wires burned apart. Mr. Walker was asleep on the second floor, and it was just possible to arouse him before the house became filled with smoke.

Both the Walker and Riter families were awakened by the fire, and the men last evening, as were all those who were at the scene, for the fire was extinguished with as little loss as possible, with less than seemed at all probable, and no damage was caused by the water and chemicals used.

Mr. and Mrs. Riter and family are staying with neighbors until they can find a home. Practically all of their winter overcoats and outer garments were lost, and the blow is a severe one to them.

ARRESTED ON WARRANT

Sidney Johnson, Oneonta, Charged With Grand Larceny Utica Parties Denies Charge and Says He Can Prove Innocence.

Sidney Johnson, main street, Oneonta, was placed under arrest by Patrolman Otto yesterday on a warrant received from Utica, charging grand larceny. Johnson retained Attorney John G. Johnson and will fight the case.

According to Attorney Johnson, his client claims he purchased a quantity of perishable merchandise of parties in Utica and paid for it on the spot with a check covering the whole amount of the purchase price. The defendant claims that the merchandise arrived in Oneonta in poor condition and that about half of it was rotten and ruined. He claims that he salvaged as much as possible and then stopped payment on the check in order to secure an adjustment.

Mr. Johnson claims his client declares he has letters and bills from the parties who caused his arrest showing that he was overcharged.

The defendant probably will be taken to Utica today for arraignment at which time he will be represented by the attorney from this place.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAY AWARDS

Oneonta Department Store, Reynolds & Son, and E. L. Ward Receive Praise of Chamber of Commerce.

Last evening the award of the prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce for the best decorated store window and store front presented during the Christmas Festival was announced by the judging committee, composed of Drs. Mills, Getman, and Lang, who however, stated that they had found considerable difficulty in reaching their final decision and had found it necessary to accord honorable mention to an additional list of 11 stores.

Certainly the attractiveness of the stores contributed much to the success of the Christmas festival, and with the especially pleasing decorations of the streets, Oneonta presented not only its most beautiful appearance but as well a sight which aroused much favorable comment and observation throughout the vicinity.

Never have larger throngs visited this city during the holiday period than this year, and never has the appearance of Oneonta been so well worth a visit here as during the Christmas festival.

First prize is awarded to the Oneonta Department store, which had a window depicting a winter scene with an electric train running about the window in and out of tunnels past small stations and across bridges of good size.

Second prize went to Reynolds & Son, and third prize to E. L. Ward. Honorable mention was the reward of the Floyd F. Taylor Co., Stevens Hardware company, R. E. Brigham, Derrick Florist, R. S. Wyckoff, New York State Gas & Electric Corp., Lauren & Rowe, L. E. Wilder & Co., Moore's Corner Bookstore, C. C. Miller & Co., and Laskaris.

TWO MISS DEATH BY HAIR

William Drumm, of Binghamton, former Oneonta and Mrs. Drumm, near death when auto hits train near this city.

William Drumm, proprietor of the Y. M. C. A. barber shop in Binghamton and formerly a barber in Oneonta and Mrs. Drumm, narrowly escaped injury and possible death about 5 o'clock Christmas day morning when their Jewett coupe collided with a freight train on the Delaware & Hudson railroad crossing about four miles west of Oneonta.

According to Mr. Drumm, the crossing is unprotected and no lights on the train were visible from the highway. According to the story told by Mr. and Mrs. Drumm, the machine struck the second or third car of the train, throwing the front end of the automobile in the same direction the train was going. The machine was carried along the track for some distance when it stopped so close to the speeding train, that a projection from one of the cars, caught the rear end, throwing it over on its side without breaking a pane of glass or injuring the two occupants with the exception of minor bruises and shock. The car was badly damaged.

The train did not stop and Mr. and Mrs. Drumm, although shocked by the collision, crawled through out of the wreck and sought help at a nearby farmhouse. They continued on their trip to Cobleskill by train. Mr. Drumm said that he saw the smoke from the locomotive some distance ahead but was unable to determine what it was until he was almost onto the crossing. He applied the brakes but the slippery condition of the road prevented him from stopping before he struck the train.

The damaged automobile was brought to the D. & H. garage in Oneonta where it will be repaired.

Christmas Eve Party.

The Misses Dorothea and Audrey Koch entertained 10 of their more intimate friends at a Christmas eve party at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Koch, of 1214 Main street, on Wednesday evening. The residence was beautifully decorated in red and green and the prevailing colors were carried out in the dainty refreshments, served in the dining room.

Two large red candles were burning at each side of the table while in the center was a huge red and green cake covered with white icing and coconut to represent a snow mound, which later was surrounded by 12 cupid dolls, favors for the guests. These were dressed in red and from each red streamer led to a plate and place card attached, upon which the season's greetings were extended. The evening was merrily spent in music, dancing and chatter.

A Lesson of Election.

Probably the chief lesson of these election figures is that the Republican administration will be expected to please all parts of the country about equally—except, perhaps, Wisconsin, where it evidently is taking steps to please itself. As to the possibility of four years of unrelenting Republicanism, the Democratic vote with the remnants of the La Follette following, that no doubt is already keeping Mr. McAdoo awake nights.—Springfield Republican.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our sincere appreciation for the floral tributes for those who furnished cars and any who assisted or offered assistance in the time of our bereavement.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than any other cough syrup and gives relief. Really and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "cough" remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Frax, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with warm water, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified raisins, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Frax and Frax preparation gives relief at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed throat, tickles and breaks the severe, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really delicious.

A dry throat will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is no better remedy.

Place a small valuable concentrated teaspoon of granulated Frax in your glass, and use as a throat lozenge. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

Send for recipe and recipe book to Dr. J. C. Green, Oneonta, N. Y.

REFUSES TO CLAIM BODY

Mrs. Hattie Chauncey, formerly of Oneonta, whose son drowned in Erie, Pa., Accidents Binghamton column by Decision.

Mrs. Hattie Chauncey of 200 Cheango street, Binghamton and formerly of Oneonta, yesterday notified the authorities of Erie, Pa., that she will not claim the body of her son, Paul Chauncey, who was drowned in that place last Wednesday.

Chief of Police Horton, of Oneonta, notified the local police Wednesday that Hattie Chauncey, of Binghamton, had been drowned at Erie, and that the body of the young man was at the establishment of an undertaking firm in Erie awaiting word from his mother, who resides in this city. Detective Sergeant John J. Crawford found the address of Mrs. Chauncey and informed her of her son's death. She declared she has not seen her son in 14 years and refused to claim his body.

She was notified of the drowning Wednesday after the local police notified her of the communication and she declined the communication and she declined the communication. Crawford then got into communication with the authorities at Erie. She declined to go and today another attempt will be received from the authorities at Oneonta. When Mrs. Chauncey was visited today she told she had sent a telegram to the authorities informing them that she would not claim the body of her son. She said Paul had left her home 14 years ago and she never heard from him or anything regarding his whereabouts. The local authorities were notified when they learned she would not claim the body. One reason for her refusal to have charge of the body, according to the police, is because she is not in the best position financially.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

Our competitors have by fair methods won our respect. We believe we have won theirs. But a new competitor has entered the field. It seeks to destroy a business which is the product of twelve years of honest effort. The interests of our customers have been our interests. We've stood by you. You've stood by us.

We've furnished you the best petroleum products that we could from our source of supply. Those products have, unfortunately, not been at all times satisfactory to us. They have not been at all times satisfactory to you. The grade of gasoline has not been uniform. At times it has fallen below government standard.

We Gave the Texas Company Notice Some Two Months Ago That We Would Not Continue to Handle Their Products After Dec. 31st.

We searched for a better source of supply. We tested the products of other producers and refiners. We found the products of the GALENA-SIGNAL OIL COMPANY OF TEXAS of high grade. We personally inspected their oil fields and refineries in Texas. We visited their storage plants in Bayway, N. J. We looked over their ships and other transportation facilities. We made the acquaintance of the officers of the company. We were satisfied. We wanted to know that you would be satisfied.

We ordered a small supply for testing purposes. The tests were highly satisfactory. We decided to change over to the Galtex products after December 31st. We ordered a supply to put in storage for your requirements after December 31st. We were served on December 6th with an injunction which the Texas Company had obtained without notice to us, forbidding us to purchase any petroleum products from any other company until after December 31st, even for testing or for use after that date. That was not playing the game fair. We called the attention of the Court to the injustice of it. The Court at once modified the order so as to permit us to purchase anywhere and any amount we chose for sale after December 31st. The Court also permitted us to buy wherever we chose and sell at any time, gasoline of lower boiling point for cold weather use than that furnished by the Texas Company, to meet your requirements. That we are doing and shall continue to do.

He knows all of the letters, and all there is to know about them and their origin as written signs—far more, needless to say, than the schoolmaster knows.

There was a boy of about the same age as Jesus who lived in the neighborhood, and whose name was Judas. He was possessed by Satan, and on that account was inclined to bite people on slight provocation. One day his mother brought him to the house of Joseph and Mary and Judas, strung down by Jesus, attempted to bite Him. Not succeeding, he struck Jesus a hard blow, so that He cried out.

Then a very surprising thing happened. For, in the same moment, Satan went out of the boy, and ran away like a mad dog. And this same boy who struck Jesus, and out of whom Satan went in the form of a dog, was Judas wished them died of various colors. But Jesus, going into the shop, took all the cloths and threw them into the furnace.

"When Satan came home and saw the cloths spoiled, he began to make a great noise, and to chide Jesus, saying, 'What has thou done to me, O thou son of Mary?' Thou hast injured both me and my neighbors, who desired their cloths of a proper color, but Thou hast spoiled them all."

"To which," Jesus replied, "I will change the color of every cloth to what thou thinkest desirable. Then He presently began to take the cloths out of the furnace, and they were all dead of those same colors which the dog desired."

One day Mary, the Mother of Jesus, told Him to fetch her some water out of the well. And, while He was on his way back with the pither full of water, He fell and broke it. Thereupon, spreading his cloak, He scattered up the water again, and brought it in that to his mother."

"Whereupon Jesus replied: 'I do not charge Me with a crime which you are not able to condemn Me, but let us ask the boy himself who will bring the truth to light.'"

"Then, coming down from the house-top, He stood over the boy and said with a loud voice, 'Zekarias, why dost thou do from the house-top?'"

"And the dead boy answered: 'Thou didst not throw me down, but such a one did.'"

The boy's parents thereupon confessed that they had done Jesus an injustice, and Jesus quickly forgave, touch the dead boy by his fingers, and let him stand on his feet and was alive again.

In the month called Abar, J gathered together the boys were his playmates, and played that He was king. He spread their garments on the ground for Him to sit on, and, having made a crown of flowers,

"Then he returned with them to Nazareth. And the Lord Jesus from that time on grew strong in stature and wisdom."
